

Story 116: Paul and Barnabas Go Out as Missionaries

The followers of Jesus remembered the last thing He asked them to do. They began to go to more and more countries to tell about Jesus. Saul had become a believer as he traveled from Jerusalem to Damascus. He wanted to obey Jesus. He and another believer named Barnabas began to travel together. They went from a church in Antioch. The people in that church prayed with Saul and Barnabas. Saul's name was changed to Paul. Then the two men began their journey. They went first to an island named Cyprus.

*****

Read this story in the Bible in Acts 13:1-3.

*****

Words to Know

began – started

travel – to go from one place to another

journey – a trip from one place to another

island – a small area of land with water all around it

Questions

1. What did the followers of Jesus remember?
2. Where did they begin to go? Why?
3. What did Saul want to do?
4. What did he and Barnabas begin to do?
5. Where did they go from?
6. How did the people in the church at Antioch help Saul and Barnabas?
7. Who changed Saul's name to Paul?
8. What was Paul and Barnabas' first stop on their journey?

The followers of Jesus remembered the last thing He asked them to do.

They began to go to more and more countries to tell about Jesus.

Saul had become a believer as he traveled from Jerusalem to Damascus. He wanted to obey Jesus.

He and another believer named Barnabas began to travel together.

They went from a church in Antioch.

The people in that church prayed with Saul and Barnabas.

Saul's name was changed to Paul.

Then the two men began their journey.

They went first to an island named Cyprus.