

Story 91: Important Men Came to See Jesus

Three foreigners, riding camels, stopped in Jerusalem. They asked to see the king. These men told the king that they were men who studied the stars. A very bright star had been seen in the sky. These foreigners told the king that this was a sign that a new king had been born to the Jews. They asked the king where this baby had been born. The king did not know. The king's advisors were called. The advisors informed the travelers that the new king was supposed to be born in Bethlehem. The three travelers got up on their camels and began to go toward Bethlehem.

*****

Read this story in the Bible in Matthew 2:1-8.

*****

Words to Know

foreigners – people from another country

bright – very strong, giving much light

advisors – men who helped the king make decisions or get information informed – gave information; told (past tense of tell)

Questions

1. Who stopped in Jerusalem?
2. Who did they want to see?
3. What did these men study?
4. What had been seen in the sky?
5. What did the foreigners say the star showed?
6. What did the foreigners ask the king?
7. Why were the king's advisors called?
8. Where did the advisors say the new king was born?
9. Where did the foreigners go when they heard what the advisors said?

Three foreigners, riding camels, stopped in Jerusalem.

They asked to see the king.

These men told the king that they were men who studied the stars.

A very bright star had been seen in the sky.

These foreigners told the king that this was a sign that a new king had been born to the Jews.

They asked the king where this baby had been born.

The king did not know.

The king's advisors were called.

The advisors informed the travelers that the new king was supposed to be born in Bethlehem.

The three travelers got up on their camels and began to go toward Bethlehem.